There have been few conversion experiences that would top that of Saul of Tarsus. As a Pharisee, he was zealous for the Jewish law and openly and passionately persecuted those who proclaimed Jesus as Lord (Philippians 3:4–6).

Yet Saul was dramatically transformed into a new creation in Christ and then used by God to start numerous churches and write much of the New Testament. How did the Lord Jesus Christ get this murderous Pharisee's attention? It happened on the road to Damascus where Saul fully intended to find men and women of the Way (followers of Jesus) and bring them bound to Jerusalem for persecution and trial (Acts 9:1–2).

Saul fell to the ground when he saw a bright light and heard a voice speaking to him. It was Jesus asking, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting Me?" (Acts 9:3–4). Saul was astonished and afraid. He asked what the Lord would have him do. The Lord had a plan for him—and it would start in the city of Damascus, the very city he was headed to in order to further persecute the people of Christ. Blind Saul was helplessly led by the hand into the city to await instructions from the Lord (Acts 9:6–8).

In Damascus, through His disciple Ananias, the Lord declared to Saul that he was His chosen vessel, and he would bear the name of Christ to the Jews, the Gentiles, and to kings (Acts 9:15). Saul's heart was dramatically changed so that "immediately he preached Christ in the synagogues, that Jesus is the Son of God" (Acts 9:20). Saul had become a new creation in Christ!

This Hebrew of Hebrews, a Pharisee breathing murderous threats, had persecuted Christians. He had stood by, guarding the clothes of those who dragged Stephen, the first martyr for Christ, out of the city to stone him (Acts 7:57–59). But after his conversion, Saul suffered greatly for His Lord through beatings, stonings, shipwrecks, and many other hardships (2 Corinthians 11:24–27). The Lord Jesus Christ made Saul, also known as Paul, into a new creation. And after meeting the living Jesus, Paul would no longer boast except in the Cross of the Lord Jesus Christ (Galatians 6:14).

Suppose you heard someone say his sins are so bad that God could never forgive him. What could you say?

The Bible tells us everything we need to know about God. And it tells us that it's impossible to be too bad for God's forgiveness. You might be surprised to find out this amazing truth: no sin is so great that the blood Jesus shed on the Cross cannot wash it away. Before the Apostle Paul became a Christian, he used to persecute Christians and have them killed! But God had mercy on him and saved him. All people who are genuinely sorry for their sin, ask God for forgiveness, trust Jesus to save them from the punishment they deserve, and receive Him as the Lord of their life will be forgiven and given new life in Christ—they become new creations! God's grace is that great! That's the good news of the gospel.

LIVE the Word

Suppose you hear someone say he doesn't like Christians because they're all hypocrites. What could you say?

Christians know they aren't perfect; they mess up a lot. They try, but they don't always live like the Bible says they should. That's why they worship Jesus Christ. He is the only person who never sinned. And it's through Jesus that they are saved from the punishment they deserve because of their sin. Jesus is God who was born in the form of a man. He suffered and took the penalty for sin when He died on the Cross. Because of what Jesus did, Christians should be committed to learning God's Word, teaching it, and obeying it. But no one can ever be perfect, except Jesus. That's why we need Him to be our Savior. Instead of disliking Christians, you would be better off despising sin and death—the things Jesus overcame. Jesus is the only answer to man's sin problem. Forgiveness of sins and eternal life with God only come through faith in Him.

SAUL TRANSFORMED

Saul changed from a man who persecuted Christians to a man who was a Christian willing to suffer persecution. How did that happen? To find out, work your way through the maze and gather the letters along the way. Put the letters in the blanks below in the order you find them.
